Overview

In complex commercial and insurance coverage disputes, Aaron Gould delivers strategic, trial-ready representation.

Aaron Gould is a civil litigator and trial attorney who represents corporations, insurers, and policyholders in complex commercial litigation and insurance coverage matters. He focuses on developing efficient litigation and resolution strategies tailored to each client's business and risk profile.

Aaron litigates a wide variety of complex civil cases in state and federal courts in New Jersey, New York, and throughout the country. He is part of a commercial litigation and trial team that leverages litigation from the outset to position clients advantageously, while remaining fully prepared to take cases through trial when necessary. This part of his practice includes the litigation of a wide variety of complex commercial matters, including corporate dissolution/oppressed minority shareholder litigation, partnership and membership disputes, complex contract disputes, bank litigation, construction, cannabis, intellectual property litigation, and securities litigation. Aaron also has substantial experience defending commercial class actions. In addition, he routinely handles commercial foreclosure actions in state and federal courts, as well as preferred transfer claims in bankruptcy proceedings nationwide. In this capacity, he frequently analyzes financial and accounting issues to support case strategy and drive resolution.

Aaron also serves as local counsel in civil matters pending in the state and federal courts of New Jersey and New York. He is highly proficient in all areas of the e-discovery process and has led numerous large scale ESI collections, reviews, and productions.

Aaron also litigates all types of first-party commercial and industrial property coverage disputes and subrogation actions in state and federal courts in New Jersey, New York, and across the country. Aaron has significant experience with power generation, hospitals, mining, large commercial and residential condominiums, municipal property, and other large commercial facility losses. He is also proficient with all issues relating to property damage coverage and exclusions, business interruption coverage and exclusions, and deductibles. Aaron is adept at all aspects of insurance coverage analysis needed during a claim adjustment. He has drafted numerous coverage denial letters and pre-litigation opinion letters for first-party insurers. Aaron has also handled many large subrogation actions on behalf of property insurers, consistently resulting in significant recoveries for his clients.
