Overview

Michael Polychronis brings disciplined, practical advocacy to business, healthcare, and employment disputes across New Jersey.

Michael is an Associate in Mandelbaum Barrett PC's Litigation and Employment Law Practice Groups where he represents clients in complex healthcare and commercial litigation involving a wide range of business disputes. He advocates for plaintiffs and defendants before administrative agencies and in state and federal courts, handling all aspects of employment litigation, including age, race, sex, and disability discrimination claims, harassment lawsuits, whistleblower actions, restrictive covenant disputes, and trade secret matters.

Michael also brings extensive experience in landlord-tenant law, representing residential landlords in sophisticated and high-volume landlord tenant matters throughout the state.

Michael received his B.A. in Political Science and History from Seton Hall University, and his J.D. from New York Law School. Prior to and during law school, Michael was a law clerk with the firm, giving him early, hands-on experience across multiple litigation disciplines.
